Day Of Prayer Service Friday

A public service marking the "World Day of Prayer" will be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Free Church.

Sponsoring the service are the United Church Women of the Council of Churches.

The Rev. Hartland H. Gifford, pastor of Faith Lutheran Church, will give the meditation on "Let Us Pray", the theme of the worldwide observance.

The committee includes: Miss Harriet Newman, chairman, Free Church; Mrs. Francis Pare, Christ Episcopal Church; Mrs. Henry J. Butler, Andover Baptist Church; Mrs. P. W. Moody and Mrs. William McIntyre, Ballard Vale United Church; Mrs. Lester Johnson, Faith Lutheran Church; Mrs. (Continued on Page Eight)

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff's best guess on a tax rate for 1964 is $31 to $31.50 - a 2-21/2 dollar increase over the 1963 rate.

He told the Selectmen the reasons for his estimate of the situation, at the end of Monday night's meeting.

In a low-voiced presentation, which two spectators and reporters had to strain to hear, Mr. Duff told the Board:

An over-all budget increase of about $500,000 is expected. This includes schools and general government.

Special articles, which seek some $700,000, probably will be reduced by $250,000 or more.

Money from surplus funds will presumably be used to offset special articles, thus the affect on the rate will be zero.

In dealing with an increase of $500,000, the manager expects - or hopes may be a better choice of description - that additional taxable property in the town will offset about $1 of this increase.

Income from the state and various sources should, he anticipates, take care of a second $1.

Town To Get $250,000 Return

The town should receive nearly $250,000 from the state for educational reimbursements, during 1964.

The receipts, which school administrators feel are lost in the magnitude of the budget itself, go into the town's free cash account. Thus the money is available, in 1965, for use as voted at town meeting.

Estimated receipts for the year break down this way, according to Supt. Edward I. Erickson:

General fund, Chapter 70 state aid - $162,877.14.

Transportation, Chapter 71 - $49,700.21; special class reimbursements - $16,573.14.

National Defense Educational Act of 1958 - $3,920.74; Evening Practical Arts - $1,563.18; trade and industrial school - $1,754.72.

Tuitions - two elementary at $349.65 - $699.30; summer school - $7,500; state wards - $4,634.45.

The total receipts anticipated are $249,222.88.

Also listed as probable receipts, but not added into the total, are rentals, at $1,685 and payment for lost books, shop supplies, etc., $561.70.

Report Mill Buildings Sold

The Marland Mills have reportedly been sold to a group which will sub-divide the space to meet the needs of tenants.

No official confirmation could be secured late Wednesday, but very reliable sources indicate that an agreement has been reached by the principals. Negotiations have been underway for some time, and many rumors of the impending sale have been discussed at official town meetings and on the street.

The R. M. Bradley Co. has been handling the property for the J. P. Stevens Co., which closed its textile operations here some months ago.

The mill was recently the subject of considerable debate, when Town Manager Thomas E. Duff suggested acquiring the site for town uses. His plan met with opposition from town officials, and had been dropped from consideration.

Reception At Historical House

The Annual Presidents' Reception to the members of the Andover Historical Society will be held, in accordance with tradition, Washington's Birthday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock, at The Amos Blanchard House.

President Frederick Flather Jr. and Mrs. Flather will greet the guests, together with several of the other past presidents of the Society. An active committee is working to present a display of the new collection of the late Mrs. Frank Brigham, recently acquired by the Society, and this display will be augmented by a showing of the collection also owned by the Society.

Tea will be served under the direction of Mrs. Flather, assisted by the following members of the Society: Mrs. Charles Bennett, Mrs. F. Tyler Carleton, Mrs. Alfred Castle, Mrs. William V. (Continued on Page Eight)

A possible access out of Bernard Champy's industrial land behind Raytheon Co., and progress in the excavation of gravel in the same area, will be on the agenda of a joint meeting in the near future.

The Selectmen, mostly on the insistence of member William Stewart, want to talk over both items with Mr. Champy and the Route 495 contractor.

The planned meeting was the major decision resulting from a Planning Board-Selectmen's meeting Monday night.

The session was called by the Selectmen to go over two problems on Fleming ave. - a two-inch water main and a narrow, congested road condition.

The Planning Board reported both conditions to the Selectmen, and Monday night emphasized that work probably must be done to (Continued on Page 17)

How High Are Prices At the CO-OP?

Every once in a while a shopper will tell us that some of our prices are high. Is there any truth to such a statement? The answer, of course, is "yes."

In a business with many thousands of items, many of which are subject to frequent price fluctuations, it is inevitable that we should be a few cents higher at times. And it is just as inevitable that we should be lower.

At the CO-OP, it is our firm policy to sell at competitive prices.

We recently checked our prices with several nearby supermarkets. Out of 43 standard and representative items, the CO-OP was up on five, down on four and the same on 34.

The food business is, by its very nature, a highly competitive, low-markup kind of business. When a food store sells regularly at competitive prices, it is offering the public genuine values for its money.

The CO-OP is such a store, not because competition forces it to do so, but rather because this is part of a positive philosophy of doing business.

Girl Scouts

The girls of Senior Troop 46 recently completed plans for a trip at the end of the school year to the World's Fair in New York City. The girls have been earning their expenses individually through their troop endeavors. At a recent meeting they worked on their uniforms and small gifts which will be on sale at the Ham and Supper planned for March 2 at their meeting place, the St. Augustine Church. The senior advisors of this group are Mrs. James B. and Mrs. T. Albert McCauley. Troop 46 and Troop 68, Junior Girl Scouts, combined for an interesting and fun-filled afternoon last Wednesday. The girls brought lunches to school and ate their respective meeting place and then met at St. Augustine Church where a chartered bus took them to the Boston Science Museum and the Hayden Planetarium. Several mothers accompanied the group as well as their leaders, Mrs. Philip Chenevert and Mrs. Frank Gaw. More joint adventures are planned by this group, which includes fourth, fifth, and sixth grade girls.

At the Sanborn School, Troop 17 held a Court of Awards. Following an impressive ceremony, the following badges were awarded: Community Service - Andrea Lindy and Joanne Wall; Backyard Fun - Christine Anderson; Gail Collins, Rosemary Elton; Lorraine Giampa, Bonnie Doyle; Joanne Walker; Needlework and Drawing & Painting - Bonnie Doyle; Hospitality - Christine Anderson, Debbie Auchterloni; Gail Collins, Jacqueline Cox, Joanne Freshinsky, Bonnie Doyle; Cooking - Denise Beaulieu, Cynthia and Sarah Curdo, Rosemary Elton, Susan LaGrasse, Kathy Tarbell, Nina Muffson and Lorraine Giampa. Two new members were welcomed into the troop, Beth Shack and Rachel Lynch.

Representatives of the Senior Troops, Marlene Briggs of Troop 30 and Jacqueline Ryder of Troop 17, attended the first Senior Planning Board meeting of the Merrimack River Girl Scout Council at Chelmsford, last Monday. Guests were also present at the meeting so that the function of the planning board could be illustrated.

Pike Has Room For More Pupils

Pike School has announced its policy governing placement at the various grade levels for September 1964.

The independent day school, with grades beginning at the nursery level and continuing through the ninth grade, has recently moved to new facilities located more than one-half mile from the former location. The new facilities have made available an opportunity for the placement of boys and girls who have long been on a waiting list basis. It also made available an opportunity for the placement of additional boys and girls.

In September, 1964, there will be openings at virtually all grade levels. The usual criteria for placement will be requested. Placement will depend upon personal interview and evidence of a satisfactory record at the present school. In the absence of a full transcript from the school now attended by the child, Pike School is prepared to offer tests to all boys and girls who apply above the first grade level.

Applications may be filed for all grade levels. If placement is impossible due to oversubscription, the applications will be carried over to the following year. Inquiries may be made at the school office.

RE-ELECTED TO NATIONAL DIRECTORSHIP

James P. Holihan, 60 Bartlett st., has been re-elected a director of the U. S. Brewers Association, at the annual meeting last week in Miami, Fla.

He also was appointed to the membership committee of the organization.

R. M. Cole, 268 Highland rd., is recuperating at his home after undergoing surgery at the Lawrence General Hospital.

Principals Attended Association Meeting

The Merrimack Valley Elementary Principals' Association met at the Franklin Elementary School, North Andover, Tuesday evening, Feb. 4.

The guest of honor and principal speaker of the evening was Douglas A. Chandler, Superintendent of Schools, in North Andover. In his talk on "Modern Sweden", Mr. Chandler was primarily concerned with the changing Swedish School curricula. He pointed out that in this transition from the old to the new, Swedish educators are incorporating many of the educational practices that are common throughout school systems in our country. A question and answer period followed.

Among those present were Principals Lionel A. Goulet, South School; Joseph Normandy, Sanborn; Miss Catherine Barrett, Central and Miss Anne Harnedy, Shawshen.

PERSONALS

Thomas Auchterlonie, 345 South Main st., spent the weekend at home from his studies at Springfield College, Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eastwood, 27 Chandler rd., are spending a vacation in Florida for the months of February and March.

November Club To Hear Mara

RODNEY N. MARA

Monday, Feb. 17, at 2:30 p.m. the November Club of Andover will hold its regular meeting in the Clubhouse on Locke st.

The guest speaker for the evening will be Rodney N. Mara, who will address the club on the subject "Puerto Rico, Island of Enchantment".

Mr. Mara, a resident of Haverhill, graduated from Boston University where he developed a deep interest in history and photography. Combining these two interests, he has traveled extensively doing considerable research into historical facts. Before visiting an area, and turning with excellent and dramatic photographs.

Mr. Mara recently resided in Puerto Rico for one year and during that time gained broad knowledge of the island. From the rough-looking homes of the people inside the old city to the tourist hotels in the new San Juan, he will bring an exciting account of this island of contrasts. Puerto Rico in its present transition period combines elements of very old and the very new and Mara has captured in his film the essence of this fascinating island.

account can be used — perhaps enough to take care of a third of the total increase.

If these guestimates hold, a 2% increase would result.

If they don't, the increase could be a larger, according to Mr. Duff.

At the end of his short but quiet explanation, Mr. Duff suggested that the press keep the statement "off the record", but was told this could not be done.

Fashion Show To Be Featured

"Fashion Vignettes", a one-woman fashion show by Mrs. Irving Burns, including a spring fashion forecast and an outstanding demonstration on the use of accessories, will be featured at the February meeting of the Newcomers Club.

This meeting is for ladies only and will be held Tuesday, Feb. 18 at 7 o'clock at the Charles Colony Restaurant, Route 28, in North Reading.

Because of the advance interest in this meeting, reservations must be made. Active members will be contacted by the telephone committee. After Thursday, Feb. 12, reservations for inactive members and guests may be made if space is still available. All reservations close Saturday, Feb. 15.

For reservations, call the Newcomers Club president, Mrs. Richard Marciano, 20 Lake Side cir. any morning.

Church Goers To Participate

Active participation by members of St. Augustine's Parish will begin at all the Masses Sunday, when many of the parts of the Mass will be recited by the people in English. The pastor, Very Rev. Francis X. N. McGuire, O.S.A., will speak at all the Masses to introduce this change. Each Sunday thereafter, various men will lead the congregation in the recitation of these prayers.

Masses on Sundays at St. Augustine's are at 6:30, 8, 9, 10 (high or sung Mass), 11:15 a.m., and at 12:15 p.m.

There are two Masses at St. Joseph's on High st., Ballardvale at 9 and 11 a.m.

Brennan Seeks Selectman's Job

MICHAEL E. BRENNAN

Michael E. Brennan, a letter carrier in the Post Office, is a candidate for the 3-year term on the Board of Selectman.

He attended local schools, Western Carolina Teachers College, and the School of Industrial Relations at Merrimack College. A combat naval veteran of World War Two, he is the holder of five battle stars for service in the Atlantic and Pacific theaters.

Married, he resides with his wife, the former Shirley Smith, in Andover, at 12 Brook st., and has three daughters, Jayne, Jody, and one son, Michael.

Dr. Caulkins Will Preach

Dr. Raymond Caulkins, senior pastor of the Free Church of Andover, will speak at the Free Church of Andover Sunday evening at 6:15 p.m.

The occasion is a vesper service, the first of a series on Sunday evenings during Lent.

Dr. Caulkins is a national figure known to three generations of Congregationalists. In 1913, he played a leading part in the historic meeting of the National Council of Congregational Churches which met at Kansas City, Nebraska.

Last year he traveled to that city again to celebrate the 50th anniversary of that event. The meeting was of historic importance because at that time foundations for the movement toward unity were laid and a statement of faith, widely used among Congregationalists, was composed.

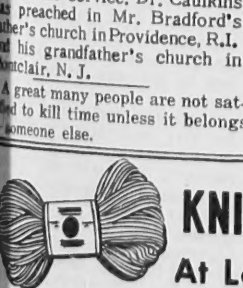

Dr. Caulkins is known to Andover as a frequent and much-loved speaker at Abbot Academy Chapel services. Though now in his 94th year, he remains alert and keen.

He is the author of many books and pamphlets including "Why Believe in Missions", "The Romance of the Ministry of 'The Eloquence of Christian Experience'". He now serves as pastor emeritus of the First Church of Congregational in Cambridge.

A great student of the Bible, Dr. Caulkins has produced his own translation of the New Testament, yet he is a man of great humility and his simple clarity has touched countless hearts and minds.

The Free Church choir will participate in the service, and the Rev. J. Allyn Bradford will conduct the service. Dr. Caulkins has preached in Mr. Bradford's father's church in Providence, R.I., and his grandfather's church in Montclair, N. J.

Two Andover men were among 13 Massachusetts engineers elevated to the honorary grade of fellow by the Board of Directors of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers.

John T. Bangert, 12 Beech cir., director of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, and F. H. Blecher, 10 Washington Park dr., also a laboratory director for Bell, were two of the 13.

Bangert was elevated to the grade of fellow for his "contributions to the advancement of network design through the use of computers".

Blecher was cited for his "contributions to the design of solid state circuits and their application to communication systems".

The honorary grade of fellow is a coveted recognition of engineering ability bestowed by fellow engineers in a confidential manner.

An engineer must be nominated by five holders of the fellow title who submit his accomplishments to the Board of Directors. The nominee never is told that his name and works are being submitted. The first inkling he has of the entire affair is when the awards are made and he is selected.

Both Bangert and Blecher are members of the Merrimack Valley sub-section of the IEEE. They will receive their awards from the Boston Area IEEE president.

March 25, the two local men will be guests along with the other 116 international award winners to be recognized by the president of the IEEE at the annual banquet which is part of the IEEE international convention.

Mark Erikson Enjoyed Party

An unusual outing, a combination of entertainment and refreshments, marked the celebration of young Mark Erikson's 7th birthday recently.

The guests were taken to a restaurant in Saugus where they were allowed to make their own ice cream sundaes from a huge assortment of sauces and toppings. Enjoying this treat were Nicky Kimball, Craig Niziak, Kim Miller, Win Gaynor, Alan Sherrerd, Danny Zussman and Karyn and Cindy Erikson.

Townsmen Editorial Thoughts

A Decision Without Supporting Facts

Voters attending town meeting may be faced with a difficult choice — planning either a high school addition or a new school.

Article 20 in the warrant asks for $12,000 for planning funds, without specifying what type of construction.

But any voter can move to amend the article to require the expenditure of the funds for one or the other of the alternatives.

And when that happens — and it's almost certain to — we'll face up to a decision that can't sensibly be made.

It is our hope that the voters will not be asked to do something they can not be prepared to do intelligently.

And we submit that it is not intelligent to act, when all of the facts are not known, when basic decisions have not been made.

The School Committee, having put the cart before the horse, decided to recommend a new high school without adopting any educational specifications.

They only now are looking at these — a meeting will be held Feb. 26 to discuss them. A decision on what educational requirements will be transmitted to the Building Committee thus can not be made, at the very earliest, before Feb. 27.

The Building Committee is bound to accept these educational requirements, and try to plan a building or addition around them. Members of that Committee certainly can't arrive at firm conclusions without even seeing the educational requirements.

The educational specifications are detailed and complex. We doubt whether one meeting to consider them — Feb. 26 — will be sufficient for the School Committee.

We also wonder whether the Building Committee — assuming members received the specs Feb. 27 — can digest them properly and arrive at a recommendation for town meeting.

Certainly the time between Feb. 27 and March 7 — town meeting day — is far too short for all voters to study and come to a personal decision on this vital question.

If the voters are asked to reach a decision at town meeting, those making this request will be doing their townsmen a dis-service, by expecting them to act on insufficient data and without time to really consider what has already been presented.

Maybe — and this is more a hope than a prediction — even those with pre-conceived ideas on the subject will wait until all of the facts are in, before requiring the town to make its decision.

Response Seems Far Too Negative

Does the town want industry within its borders?

Or boiled down more simply still — do the Selectmen want industrial growth?

Members of the board would be the first to give their endorsement to broadening the tax base — but when the chips are down, actions don't follow the words.

Take Monday night, as an example.

Raytheon Co. has options on land in the Champy industrial area, to build a parking lot for 600-plus cars. Access to the lot will be via Fleming ave. The Planning Board has approved a necessary sub-division plan, and the firm's petition to the Board of Appeals is, as yet, undecided.

Originally — before all the appeals and requests were formally made — Raytheon asked the Selectmen for general approval. Representatives said they would not go through the red tape, if the Selectmen did not favor the move. They received a green light.

Monday night, when the subject was discussed with the Planning Board, the Selectmen were conspicuous by their attention to road-blocking details. Little was said about how desirable the solution is. Nothing in particular was said about municipal cooperation of an enthusiastic nature — the impression was entirely negative.

Adults Take Notice

Police officer Bill Tammany will be appearing in the elementary schools next week, to tell all the pupils about safety.

With him will be a representative of the Registry of Motor Vehicles.

The program these men bring to the schools is a vital one. It tells the youngsters about safety — the importance of obeying sensible rules set forth for the protection of all.

Knowing their dedication to this work, and the general content of their message, we, in advance, commend these men for their efforts, and urge adults and children alike to listen, hear and obey the rules for safety they set forth.

In the latter regard, it is the consensus of opinion that young children learn best by example. Thus the adults — the parents especially — should try to follow elementary safety precautions for the benefit of their observant children.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago — February, 1889

The continued cold weather exactly suits ice men. B. F. Holt has 500 tons stored at Frye Village, nearly 2,000 more at Pamp's Pond, and begins work at home today. William Poor has just finished a new two-horse wagon for Peter D. Smith.

Frank B. Jenkins has been obliged by illness to relinquish the express business, which has been bought by B. B. Tuttle.

50 Years Ago — February, 1914

There has recently been published a textbook entitled "Selected English Letters", edited by Dr. Claude M. Fuess of Phillips Academy.

The installation of the Rev. E. Victor Bigelow as pastor of the South Church will take place Wednesday evening.

Surrounded by their eight children and six grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Dodson celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage Wednesday.

Miss Margaret Clinton was tendered a shower in honor of her approaching marriage to George Dane. The event was held at the home of Miss Katherine Roach.

25 Years Ago — February, 1939
Walter Gieseking, noted pianist, will appear at Phillips Academy tomorrow evening.

If five new trucks are purchased this year, the Board of Public Works can save about $7,700 each year thereafter. Up to this time, the department has been depending on hired equipment.

The police ball was held Friday evening, for the first time in the new Memorial Auditorium-gymnasium. Until this year, the town hall has been normally used.

Article 29 of the annual town meeting warrant asks for $2,250 for the purpose of purchasing Hussey's Pond from the New England Cities Ice Company.

A "committee for coordinated recreation" has asked the town to appropriate $500 for the BPW to spend on maintaining an ice skating area, during the cold weather.

Article 32 in the warrant, on petition of Paul A. L'Antigua, asks the voters to re-establish the custom at all town meetings of the future, in the principles of true Christian Americanism, of inviting a clergyman to invoke Divine guidance over the deliberations, and to have the Salute to the Flag follow.

10 Years Ago — February, 1954

The Board of Trade is planning a testimonial dinner to honor Roy Hardy, who retires next month as selectman-assessor, after years in the position. Over 50 representatives have been invited to the Trade Board's meeting, to help plan the event.

New bids for the Ballardvale sewage treatment plant will be called for shortly, so that the BPW will have figures for town meeting. The first bids were far above available funds for the project.

The Taxpayers Association has affirmed its original conclusion that the merger of the tree department with the public works department will be beneficial. Added study has been given to the proposal by members of the Association.

Newburyport beat Puncard, 48-47, as the final whistle blew. The win broke a Puncard winning streak. Capt. Bill Stack was prevented from scoring much — he had four baskets for eight points plus five foul points. He usually is high scorer.

The baseball season will soon be here — and the umpires will be undergoing their annual martyrdom.

Great Books

The next meeting of the Great Books Discussion Group will be held at the library Tuesday evening, Feb. 18, at 7:30 o'clock. The reading for discussion is to be the Communist Manifesto. New members may enter at any time.

Littlest Listeners

The Ballardvale pre-school group will meet at the branch library Thursday, Feb. 13 at 10 o'clock for the usual story hour. In Andover, the Teddy Bears will meet next Wednesday, Feb. 19 at 10 o'clock for their story hour, with Miss Russell, Children's librarian.

Story Hours

This week's story hour, Thursday afternoon, is built around the theme of Valentine's Day. There will be a movie "The Sleeping Beauty" and a story "The Castle Under The Sea". Feb. 20, Thursday afternoon also, the program will be on the American Indian. There will be a movie "The Loon's Necklace" which is a legend of how the loon got his neckband, and a story "How The Birds Got Their Feathers". All story hours are at 3:35 o'clock and all boys and girls are invited to attend.

Brotherhood Week

The library is displaying a number of books and pamphlets designed to further understanding and good will among all peoples. This is Brotherhood Week, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, founded in 1928 by Charles Evans Hughes, Newton D. Hayes, S. Parkes Cadman, Roger W. Straus and other men who hoped that, through education and discussion, time would bring about the national ideal of "one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all". All material displayed may be borrowed for home use. Brotherhood Week is observed this year from Feb. 16-23 throughout the nation.

Great Decisions

This Thursday evening marks the second in the series of Great Decisions discussions that are being carried on in many schools, churches, libraries and homes. Groups both large and small are formed to talk together about a number of questions concerned with America's foreign policy and to try to enlarge their understanding of the many and perplexing situations facing our country at this time. This week's subject is "France And The West". Some of the questions posed here are: What sort of Europe would DeGaulle form? What U. S. policies will halt the drift in the Atlantic alliance? Will "holding fast" be enough? Can the old world and the new be partners, or must they be rivals?

Suggested background readings for this discussion are available at the library. Among them are Herter's "Toward An Atlantic Community", Kissinger's "Nuclear Dilemma" from the Reporter, "U. S. Trade And The Common Market" by Clayton, and of the Headline Series publications, and "Atlantic Policy", from Foreign Affairs.

Channel 2 is carrying the series beginning Thursday, Feb. 6, and running through the eight parts of the program. Other subjects coming up are "Egypt And The Middle East", "Disarmament", "Castro's Cuba", "Indonesia", "Foreign Aid" and "Ideological Warfare".

Travel Talk

Save Friday evening, Feb. 20, for the first of this spring's travel talks. There's a treat in store for all travelers, actual and armchair. Details will be announced.

What Our Readers Say—

The Editor of the Townsman: "Our high school project is so large and the number of people involved so large that there is danger it may not move properly from step to step. Unless each group does its job judiciously, in such a way as to create public confidence, there is even the possibility of public approval. The situation calls for a tight and logical procedure, with the School Committee playing a strategic role.

A list of the proper steps, in a logical sequence, might look like this:

1. The School Committee first makes clear policy decisions regarding any changes in the existing high school curricular and extra-curricular program.

2. The Committee then asks administrators to submit minimum as well as 'optimum' space requirements to carry out the program with a growing enrollment.

3. The School Committee now makes the educators' recommendations realistically. (See p. 1).

4. Revised specifications go to the State for approval.

5. Final specifications go to the School Building Committee, to develop building plan and specifications.

6. The building plan is submitted to the voters for approval. Our administrators' recommendations finally reached the School Committee last week, but books as if they were developed from clear directives from our school officials. Unless we are to permit the blunder of our administrators' policy for this town, our School Committee must now give requests the most critical realistic appraisal during the week or so. For this is their moment of truth.

Department heads are seriously liberal in making requests for their own establishments. If the role of the School Committee is to be one of responsible leadership toward its public, rather than one of passive compliance toward its administrators, must have the courage to say no to the more visionary proposals of our more imaginative educators. For the School Committee to over the educators' requests officially and thus let the educators, by default, establish either national or space specifications will be a grave disservice to this town. The proposals should be assessed in the light of their solid contribution to the enlightenment of our students, rather than to the experience of our educators. It seems to me that the surest way for the School Committee to gain public confidence in their judgment would be to make

The proposals should be considered in the light of their solid contribution to the enlightenment of our students, rather than to the convenience of our educators.

It seems to me that the surest way for the School Committee to create public confidence in their judgment would be to make these two moves. 1.) Apply some hard-nosed restraints to the more exotic requests of our more exuberant administrators in the broad areas usually called 'educational'. 2.) Segregate blue-sky proposals of a recreational or adult nature into a separate and optional package which could be accepted or rejected by town meeting without endangering realistic educational needs. Into this package of optional extras would go such dreamy items as a huge auditorium, a swimming pool, a skating rink, etc.

"In the final analysis, the public attitude will depend on the public image of the School Committee's sense of realism in establishing standards, and of the School Building Committee's practical sense in coming up with a plan of construction which is both functional and economical."

"If these conditions prevail, I can see no good reason why the building needs should not be approved by the Voters, and no reason why our children's educational needs should not be adequately met for the foreseeable future."

Bible Vigils At St. Augustine's

Beginning Sunday, Feb. 16, for the six Sundays in Lent, St. Augustine's parish will conduct Bible Vigils for parishioners and any other interested resident.

The Vigils, all scheduled for 8 o'clock, will consist of a procession and placing the Bible on a reading stand.

Sunday, three prominent laymen, John McAllister, president of the Holy Name Society, Lawrence Morrisroe, president of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine and Thomas Murphy, head of the Catholic Men's Club, will read from the Bible.

A brief sermon will follow each reading. Entrance and exit hymns will be sung by the congregation, and the services will conclude with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

HEARD SPEAKERS

The Science Club at Andover High School has recently heard three speakers at its meeting.

Robert Garrison from Worcester Polytechnical Institute spoke about the discovery and nature of the X-ray; Dr. Peter J. Wick, a pathologist from Lawrence General Hospital, spoke about the subject of cancer and cigarette smoking; Dr. Richard J. Cotton spoke about sugar diabetes, its control, symptoms, and side effects.

Will Present Passion Play

The Oberamergau Passion Play will be presented in color at the South Church Thursday night, Feb. 20, at 8 p.m., by the Rev. and Mrs. Ernest W. Barnes of Mont Vernon, N. H.

In 1960, Rev. and Mrs. Barnes witnessed the famous Oberamergau Passion Play in Oberamergau, Germany. As is customary with guests to this little village, they were entertained in the home of one of the cast. This world-famous performance of the last week of our Lord's life resulted from a vow made by the villagers in 1634; that if the Lord spared their village from the Black Plague, they would present his message regularly.

Every 10 years since 1634, with the exception of some delay during major war years, this little village has kept its promise. Following Holy Communion at 5 and 6 a.m., the play begins in the great playhouse at 8 a.m. and continues to 11:30 a.m. After a break of two hours for lunch, the play resumes at 2 and ends at 5:30 p.m. It is given before a congregation of 5,000 persons. There is a cast of over 800 and a chorus and symphony orchestra of 50 each. The play will be presented in Andover with the 50 official color slides of the village plus some more intimate ones taken by the narrators.

Anyone interested in seeing this play is cordially invited to attend.

In an age as we are where antibiotics are of increasing stature in the medical field, we might point out that antibiotics is not nearly as new as many might imagine. The word itself was coined by a French physician, Vuillemin, in 1889 and Pasteur, as a matter of interest, flirted with the idea of antibiotics when working with ANTHRAX in 1877.

In general, an antibiotic is a substance produced by one living organism for the destruction of another.

Central School Auditorium, the fifth grade class of Miss Dorothy Kyle presented a varied and informative program on "Books".Many parents and friends of the children participating were in attendance at this assembly.One group reported on the material covered in the fifth grade school books, and the necessity of accurate reading in every subject.Another group selected books from the Central School Library, and gave reports. To quote the announcer, Bradley Kent, "Some reports are sad, some are glad, some are mysteries, and some are histories. We have read Geographies and even Biographies, in fact, we have read everything from Sherlock Holmes, whom a thief did catch, to Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch."The following children participated: announcer, Bradley

Bartch are teaching ninth graders Paul's letter to the Romans with special concern for the place of this letter in the total thinking of Paul and for the tools available for English Bible study, such as versions, concordances, atlases, Bible dictionaries and commentaries.

This is the 20th consecutive year that this school has been held in Andover on a "released-time" basis in cooperation with the Junior High School. The specific purpose of the school is to teach each student to use the Bible with skill and understanding. To help accomplish this end, the teachers have training and experience comparable to that expected by the public schools for teachers at this grade level. Mr. Bartch, the director of the school, is a Ph.D. candidate in New Testament Studies and Christian Origins at Harvard University.

Selectmen Have Reviewed Budget

The Selectmen completed all the pages in the proposed budget, Monday night, but have one or two departmental budgets yet to consider.

The Board has made no changes in any of the budgets - explanations have been sought from the town manager in great detail, and the recommendations of the Finance Committee have been examined.

Only those budget items which have not cleared through the Finance Committee remain on the Selectmen's agenda.

A joint meeting is being scheduled next week to go over special articles in the warrant.

During budget discussions Monday night, there was a long series of questions and answers concerning the retirement fund. The Selectmen wanted to know whether the fund is administered locally, whether funds are invested by the local board or by the state, and by whose authority the funds may be spent.

After a lengthy debate, it was explained that the local Board invests funds - the Selectmen gave "special employee" status to member Edmond E. Hammond about a year ago, so he could continue handling investments for the Board.

FORM CHAPTER AT HIGH SCHOOL

Students at Andover High School recently formed the Andover chapter of the Future Teachers of America.

Officers elected were Susan Koza, president; Sharon Briggs, vice president; Lynda Sukoff, secretary; Pamela Pawlik, treasurer.

Cub Pack 73 Planning Dinner

The annual Blue and Gold dinner of Cub Scout Pack 73 is to be held, Tuesday, Feb. 18 at 6:45 p.m. The South Church Cub Pack, under the direction of packmaster J. William McClintock, is planning a home cooked meal for the 32 cub members and their families.

The den mothers, Mrs. Paul Hood, Mrs. Sidney Zussman and Mrs. William McClintock, have laid careful plans for a fine family meal provided by all the mothers of the pack.

A family sing-along is planned for entertainment.

MORE MEETINGS
ON PARKING

remedy them. Chairman Harold King also reported that his Board has approved, with restrictions, a sub-division plan allowing Raytheon to divide the land and install roads, water and drainage.

Raytheon has agreed to install an eight-inch water line, and has bonded itself to do so, providing the town acts to put the same size main in Fleming ave. within two years of the date construction begins on the parking lot.

Town Manager Thomas E. Duff and Water Supt. Donald Bassett agreed that an eight-inch main will be installed there, but both believe it is less imperative than other water distribution problems in the town.

The officials also agreed that, whenever the road surface is to be repaired, the water main should go in.

The Selectmen did not commit the town to any course of action. Mr. Stewart seemed to believe that the gravel excavations, controlled by a gravel pit permit and a bond of $20,000, will affect the remainder of the property on which the parking lot is to be constructed. Answers to questions he has on the pit operation must be received, he told his colleagues, before any further action can be taken.

He also insisted that some other access from the area, than the Fleming ave. proposal, should be found.

He said the sharp curve onto Haverhill st., where the two ways meet, is bad; he also flatly opposed any attempt to create a blind corner there by intersecting the two streets at right angles.

Mr. Stewart told the gathering that Mr. Champy has made many promises over the years, and he wants to find out about them and any possible relief for the residents of Fleming ave.

The residents of that street object to its use by cars going into the parking area. Many of the oft-repeated reasons for the objection were once again offered at the session Monday night.

Jr. Gardeners To Discuss Herbs

The use of herbs in cooking, and their growth indoors, will be discussed at the March 7 meeting of the Junior Garden Club.

Mrs. Ernest L. Wilkinson will be in charge of the meeting.

At the Feb. 1 meeting, members of the Club saw a demonstration of the Japanese art of water color prints, using pressed flowers and ferns. Mrs. Francis H. McCabe was in charge of the meeting, assisted by Mrs. Adeline Wright and Mrs. Louis Anderson.

First prize winners, in two age groups, in the bird lore quiz were Jennifer McLean and Phyllis Thomas. Mrs. Walter Curtis distributed Audubon booklets and registration pins.

Lutheran Women
Met Recently

A meeting of the LCW of Faith Lutheran Church was held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Robert Haag.

Mrs. U. Sylvester Berger, president, conducted the business session. The proposed constitution for the local group was approved, and formal application for membership in the LCW of the Lutheran Church in America is to be made.

Mrs. Earl Over has been appointed subscription recorder for the magazine "Lutheran Women".

Mrs. John Clapper has been appointed delegate to the United Council of Church Women. Emphasis was placed upon "World Day of Prayer" service to be held Feb. 14, at Free Christian Church.

Mrs. Lester Johnson had charge of the program for the evening. Four book reviews were presented. Two books were donated for a church library, a project the group will sponsor in the near future.

WILL FILED

Miss Katherine A. Berry of Andover left property valued at approximately $32,000, according to letters of administration allowed on her estate by Judge John A. Costello in Probate court at Salem. Helen M. Lacaille, 174 High st., was appointed administratrix. Miss Berry left her mother, Mary E. Berry of Andover.

Ann Kiley Is Finalist

Philip F. Wormwood, principal of Andover High School, has announced that Ann M. Kiley has received a Certificate of Merit, advancing her from the Semifinalist to the Finalist stage of the National Merit Scholarship Program.

This is a distinction won by approximately 13,000 students - about one-half of one percent of the secondary school seniors in the nation. It is from the Finalist group that all Merit Scholars for 1964 will be selected.

Approximately 1,600 Finalists will be offered Merit Scholarships in the current competition. In addition to the goal of encouraging support for able students, the National Merit Scholarship Program also has a broader purpose - to encourage the pursuit of intellectual attainment.

Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Kiley Jr., 3 Random In. She is a transfer from Lynnfield this year, and is active in the French Club and the Honor Society.

Get $10,000 In Refunds

Percentage-wise, Andover has collected more than any municipality in the state, as a result of federal court action against several firms that supply road surfacing products to towns and cities.

Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien, in announcing the completion of the legal action, said the town has received $10,620.93.

This is 13.7 percent of the total recovery for all cities and towns in the state.

The diligence of Public Works office Manager Calvin Metcalf and Mrs. Helen Keith in his office, in digging out vital data for the suit, was credited by Atty. O'Brien with being mostly responsible for the large settlement.

The material suppliers were convicted of price fixing, and later were sued by many towns and cities. The joint action was taken through a Boston law firm, Withington, Cross, Park and McCann.

The amounts recovered were based on purchases, and thus the municipalities which were able to produce the best and most detailed information received larger amounts of the total settlement.

By comparison, Atty. O'Brien said Boston has received six percent of the total settlement; North Andover has one percent, and many communities received nothing.

Gift House To Change Location

The Andover Gift House, for nearly 20 years located on Park St., will move to 11 Main St. in mid-March.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin E. Anderson, who have owned the Gift House since June of 1960, announced the change of location.

The store will occupy both floors at 11 Main - which was itself recently vacated by A. B. Sutherland Co., which moved to the Olde Andover Village.

Mr. Anderson said better exposure to traffic, and an easier-to-find location caused the change. The building is now being renovated.

Some expansion in the lines of merchandise carried by the store is planned by Mr. Anderson.

Crusade For Christ To Be Held Here

The Memorial Auditorium will be the location for the 1964 Merrimac Valley Crusade for Christ.

The Crusade, which is sponsored by the Merrimac Valley Fellowship of Evangelical Ministers, will be conducted by internationally-known evangelist Dr. Torrey Johnson, from May 10 through May 24.

Dr. Johnson will speak at a pre-crucade rally at Memorial Auditorium Monday evening, April 6.

At a recent meeting of the 37 churches involved in the Crusade for Christ, Charles Campbell expressed the purpose of the Crusade. He said, "Our aim is to explain, and make clear the message of Jesus Christ. That message is 'For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.'"

The next meeting of the committees for the 1964 Crusade for Christ will be held at the West Congregational Church in Haverhill, Feb. 21, at 7:15.

Answers Printed In This Issue

Candid expressions of opinion from all candidates for Selectmen and School Committee will be found on pages 4-5-6.

They are in response to questions by the Townsman, in attempt to determine where candidates stand on issues of day.

Candidates for Selectman were asked about pay raises, cent purchasing and use of the police making prerogatives of the Board.

Questions for School Committee candidates also included cent purchasing, because this is concern to all town departments. Candidates for school construction, and on including a swimming pool in any school building program.

The candidates' opinions varied and interesting; and presented in this issue for enlightenment of the voters prior to March 2.

Board Delays Site Action

The Selectmen have had further consideration of the Board property on South Main as an elementary school site, least until all other possible choices are examined.

Although the School Committee is authorized by town meeting to designate school sites, the Selectmen must approve expenditure of the Land Acquisition Committee.

It was revealed Monday night that the Board called a halt, least temporarily, on acquisition procedures dealing with this site during an informal mid-week meeting Jan. 8.

When the Board met Jan. 8 minutes of the Jan. 8 failed to show the action taken but the subject was recalled by Selectman William Stewart, Board secretary. He once again made it clear Monday night, as the Selectmen and Finance Committee together to confer on special articles.
